

Children With Cancer

Working With The Community

On a regular basis, we work with the paediatric wards of a few cancer institutes in order to contribute towards childhood cancers.

Working With The Community

Raising Awareness About Childhood Cancers

Often, people tend to feel more acutely emotional about children suffering from cancer. Mostly, it is because the child did nothing to cause the disease. The sense of misfortune associated with childhood cancers is very high. There is nothing more heartbreaking than losing a child to cancer.

At CIPHER, we have always had a special place for children with cancer.

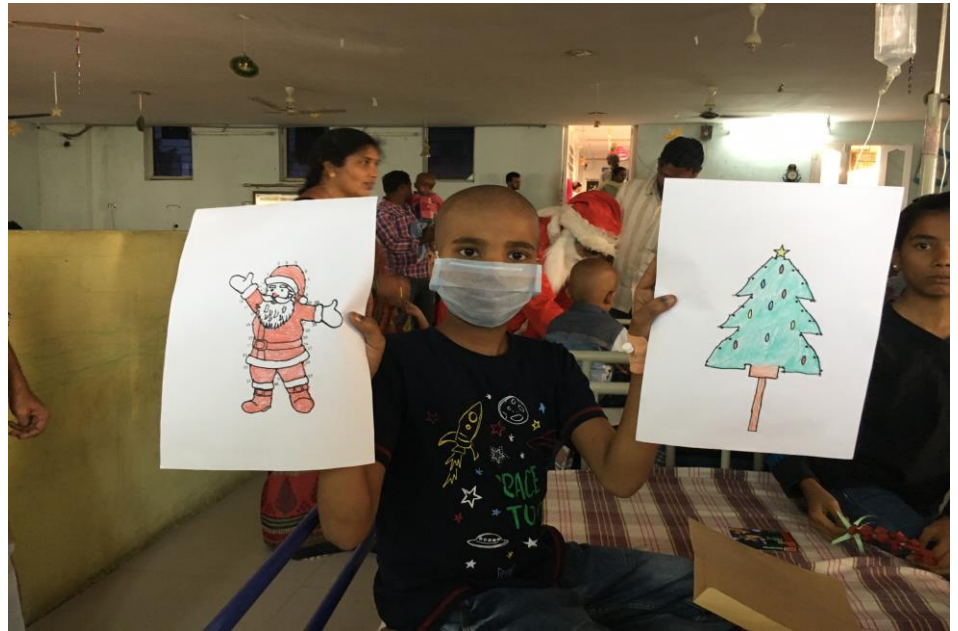

We specifically raise awareness about St. Jude India Child Care Centres and the paediatric wing of MNJ Institute of Oncology, which work extensively in the space of childhood cancers.

We connect members of the community (especially schools) with these institutions. Often, school students visit the centres to volunteer time or offer donations and gifts to the children.

Organising Events and Donations

Every year, CIPHER Healthcare donates health kits to the paediatric wing of MNJ Institute of Oncology. Apart from this, we constantly stay in touch with the team to understand their needs in order to organise for donations – either from our end or to connect them with our partners or the community at large.

On a regular basis, we also organise Christmas celebrations with the children afflicted by cancer. We have been part of the Christmas celebrations at MNJ Institute of Oncology for 3 years.
